

Mrs. Anna Ingoldsby and daughter, Mrs. Marge Sexton and the latter's baby daughter, Carroll Ann, of Omaha, Nebr. are here for a two months visit at the home of Mrs. Ingoldsby's daughter, Mrs. B. C. Taliaferro, 4820 Niagara ave. Mrs. Sexton is a sister of Mrs. Taliaferro and Mrs. Ingoldsby is a sister of John Seidel, who is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Taliaferro, his son-in-law and daughter. The visitors are enthused over this, their first trip to Ocean Beach, and were greatly relieved to get away for a time from the 100-degree maximum daily temperatures they report they left at Omaha.

Loyal J. Helmer of 5024 Newport ave. returned Monday from a two weeks visit with his sister, Mrs. Mae Kusmaul, in Oakland and San Francisco. He made the trip by train. Mr. Helmer is planning to leave in about a month for Hayward, Wis. to look after his farm interests there as well as to "catch up on his fishing," he says.

In honor of Barbara Garrison's birthday, July 12, a group of girls assembled for luncheon at the Casa de Manana in La Jolla. After lunch the party continued at La Cita room in La Valencia hotel, also in La Jolla. Those present were Barbara Garrison, Lillian Way, Helen Pearce, Dessie Carroll, Jean Haskins and Lucille Schaw.

Martin Murphy of Ocean Beach is one of 27 San Diegans who have qualified for membership in the new $250,000 "Round Table" club organized at the U. S. Grant hotel July 11. Membership is open only to life insurance underwriters who have sold a minimum of $250,000 in life insurance during the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Smith and baby son, Jeffrey, of Hemet, Calif. arrived Saturday for a week-end visit at the home of his mother, Mrs. F. M. Spikes, 2151 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. Mr. Smith returned to Hemet and his wife and baby remained here for a visit of at least a week longer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Engel and daughter, Mrs. Sol Lederberg of Chicago, arrived last week to make their home in Ocean Beach. The Engels are the parents of Sandy Engel of Azure Vista and Mrs. Ray Lieberman of Mission Beach. Mr. Engel will be affiliated with Consolidated Aircraft.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rankin and Mrs. Margaret Reinfrank left Tuesday for the Rankin summer cabin at Descanso, where the women will vacation for about 10 days. Mr. Rankin has returned to his duties in the local post-office.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Earl Johnson have named their baby, Doris Marie. She was born at the Silver Spray hotel, where they are living, at 5:57 a.m. July 9. Mr. Johnson is in the navy and is stationed at North Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren T. Cox, newlyweds, are making their home temporarily in Ocean Beach. They were married June 24 in Grace Lutheran church. The bride is the former Miss Anna Lindloff.

Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Carlson have been the house guests of Rev. and Mrs. James F. Roberts. Rev. Carlson is pastor of the Central Methodist church, Glendale, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Crowner of National City are the parents of a baby girl, born July 5. She is the former Grace Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Oliver, 1862 Cable st.

Mrs. Raymond Mead, 1626 Ebers st., left Tuesday for San Francisco to visit her husband for about two weeks. He has recently returned from war duty overseas.

Mrs. Jewell Mason has opened a beauty shop in the building at 4879 Voltaire st. formerly occupied as an office by Dr. W. B. Oster.

Mrs. Hines, who spent a month with her daughter, Mrs. Wilkinson, in Azure Vista, left Wednesday for her home in Philadelphia.

300-POUND SWORD FISH PUTS UP LONG BATTLE

An hour and three quarter battle with a 300-pound sword fish was the experience of Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Brindendine of Pacific Beach, Saturday. The fish took the fishing boat El Toro about 10 miles out to sea before giving up, Howard reports. The season on sword fish has started again, reports Howard, who is engaged in commercial fishing.

Civic Leaders To Ask Council For Building Rules

A half dozen of the civic leaders of the community are at work circulating petitions for keeping and making Ocean Beach an attractive residential area. They are petitioning the city council to place this community "under architectural review regulations" of the city planning commission.

The purpose is to prevent the construction or moving here of shacks and other undesirable buildings, reports John A. Titlow, local business man, who has taken the lead in the enterprise.

The territory covered in the map accompanying the petition includes practically all of Ocean Beach, business as well as residential districts, reports Mr. Titlow. The area described includes from Chatsworth blvd. west to the ocean and Point Loma ave. north to Mission bay, a distance north and south of about 22 blocks and east and west of about 12 blocks.

Already more than 150 property owners have signed the petition, and as soon as the canvass is completed same will be turned over to the city council. The councilmen will then call a meeting to pass on the petition. The commission will then hold an open hearing at which the matter will be discussed preliminarily to final decision.

Ocean Beach USO Presents Service Pins to Seven

The USO staged an enjoyable party in the form of a barn dance last Saturday night. Much credit for the success of the dance is given to Mrs. P. M. Burrows whose fine orchestra contributed the music. Mrs. Esther Milton was on hand with her staff to furnish special refreshments.

Service pins were presented to the following hostesses: Mrs. Golden, gold pin, 50 hours service; Mesdames Stone, Alexander, Flower, Frigerio, Decud and Haggerty, silver pins, each 100 hours service.

A large crowd attended and everyone hoped that another barn dance would be in the offing soon. The weekly wiener bake will be held Wednesday night, taffy pull, Friday night. On Saturday and Sunday afternoon there are swim facilities and on Sunday from 6 to 7 p.m. buffet suppers. Cold cuts of meat and salads for the buffet supper are urgently needed, and cookies, cakes and doughnuts every day.

"This hospitality is deeply appreciated by the service-men and service-women, and you will be helping by contributing food," announce those in charge.

MUSICIAN MYRON COLLINS ARRANGING SONGS FOR GEO. McKEON OF OCEAN BEACH

"Myron Collins, a San Diego musician of note, is doing the orchestral arrangement for my two new songs, 'Walking Beside a Soldier' and 'Blood for the Brave,' George McKeon of Ocean Beach reported this week. James Semer, warrant officer and leader of the Fort Rosecrans army band, had expressed the desire to have the orchestral arrangement made."

Mr. McKeon wrote the song, "Blood for the Brave," for the Red Cross to help boost its work soliciting blood for the San Diego blood bank.

Rev. H. A. McPheeters, who rebuilt the Ocean Beach Methodist church 15 years ago and was its pastor for three years is now vice pastor of a new non-sectarian church, "The Wee Kirk By-the-Sea," under construction on Emerald st. in Pacific Beach. The new building is being constructed in three units, he says, one of which is nearing completion. Services have been carried on in the new unit beginning with Easter Sunday last. Playgrounds also have been laid out on the church property and are in use, he says.

About 130 Youths Take Part in Play Tournaments

Approximately 130 youth, nearly all of them boys, are taking advantage of the city's recreation program being carried on this summer in the old Davis merry-go-round building at the foot of Santa Monica ave., Coach Larry Hanson, recreation director, reported Wednesday. A considerable number are playing both ping pong and pool, there being 64 players in pool and 48 in ping pong, but the 57 who have thus far scored points in basketball are nearly all different boys and girls from those playing the other games.

Girls basketball was started Monday and will be carried on every Monday during the summer, Coach Hanson reported. Badminton, he said, will be started in the near future.

A hot race is on boys basketball, he says. La Jolla B team and Point Loma B team are tied for first, each with five games won and four lost. Stone's Stars, La Jolla A and Point Loma A are tied for third, fourth and fifth, each with four games won and five lost. Rice's Yanks are in the cellar, with three won and six lost.

Rich Stangle still leads the way for individual honors, with a total to date of 97 points, closely followed by Bill Kettenburg, with 91 and Bob Fleming with 89. Point totals of the other players to date follow:

C. Hanson, 83, Bob Berman 64, Kenny Lyons 50, Doc Rice 48, Bill Hamlin 45, Emmett Herz 41, Bob White 40, Jon Kowal 39, Louis Almgren 31, Heggertsey 30, Ed Jorgenson 30, Jim Grascchell 28, Chunky Liepensburger 35, Bill Robinson 27, Jack Rand 26, "Nellie" Nelson 24, Ed Teagle 23, Allan Blackwell 20, Ray Hoobler 20, Bill Rice 18, Jay Timmons 18, Dene Howell 18, Carl Stanzone 16, Bill Stone 14, Wesley Hesson 12, John Sherrill 12, Dick Beh 12, "Blacky" Shields 12, John Kennedy 11, Bob Mahan 10, "Dopey" Chasey 10, Louis Karnes 9, Bob Gansell 9, Cal Rodriguez 9, Larry Bingham 8, Bob Kellogg 8, John Mehas 7, George Coleman 6, George Pinnell 6, Dick Lehrner 6, Harold Marquis 6, Bob Pastori 6, Frank Coleman 6, Jerry Hunter 5, John Mader 4, Bill Weaver 4, Bill Gantner 2, Bob Bauer 2, Malcolm Gibson 2, Charles Gillian 2, "Red" Campbell 2, Matt Heggertsey 2, Bill Taylor 1, and Jack Hilton 1.

Jim Grascchell, with 13, tops the list of point winners in the pool tournament to date, with C. Hanson second, with 11 points. Others are trailing as follows:

Wesley Hesson 8, Rager Reddin 5, Dene Howell 5, Bob Mahan 4, Jack Rand 4, Carl Stanzone 4, Ray Clark 3, Ken Lyons 3, C. Liepensburger 3, Neil Jones 3, Rich Stangle 3 and Van Holst 1. Jon Kowal leads the pack in ping pong thus far, with 20 points total. Point totals for the others to date are:

Jack Rand 9, C. Hanson 8, Jim Grascchell 7, Grace Hesson 5½, Jim Skilling 5, Penn 4, Wesley Hesson 4, Emmett Herz 4, Bill Stone 4, Bob Pastori 4, O. J. Earley 3, Rich Stangle 3, Dene Howell 2, Bob Fleming 2, Jack Wittinghill 2 and Perry Wyman 1. Coach Hanson and the Ocean Beach boys ask The News to express their thanks to the Kiwanis club for the offer to buy the medals and charms to be awarded the high point tournament winner at the close of the season. The three players first to score more than 100 points in the pool tournament and the first three getting past the 100-mark in the ping pong tournament will each be awarded suitable medals and the eight members of the winning team in basketball will be given suitable basketball charms, announces Hanson.

Wesley Hesson 8, Rager Reddin 5, Dene Howell 5, Bob Mahan 4, Jack Rand 4, Carl Stanzone 4, Ray Clark 3, Ken Lyons 3, C. Liepensburger 3, Neil Jones 3, Rich Stangle 3 and Van Holst 1. Jon Kowal leads the pack in ping pong thus far, with 20 points total. Point totals for the others to date are:

INSKO BROTHERS AND FATHER TO HAVE SERVICE

Mark Insko, who has just returned from a 50,000-mile tanker trip in the Merchant Marine service, and his brother, Rev. Myron C. Insko, who recently graduated from Boston Theological School and is awaiting orders as a navy chaplain, and their father, Dr. Myron Insko, head of the San Diego Goodwill Industries, will have the forenoon service at the Pt. Loma Methodist church Sunday, July 23, at the 10:45 hour. Rev. Myron C. Insko will preach the sermon, announces Rev. J. F. Roberts, the pastor.

City at Work On Ocean Beach Rock Sea Wall Again

San Diego city's erosion control project for the protection of Abbott st. and property lying between that street and the ocean was resumed here this week by the department of public works. A crew of 11 men including Milton Rader, district foreman, and Rader Koen, foreman, are doing the work. Mechanical equipment being used includes five trucks, two tractors and one crane, Verne Parker, acting director of public works, informed The News Wednesday.

Main items of the present improvement are the extension of the rock sea wall north to a point about a block past Saratoga ave. and the installation of a new ramp for the runway to the beach to be used by the lifeguards truck and lifeboat. The latter is on the same location out from the police station as formerly, and will have a concrete runway in part. The previous concrete had been undermined by action of the waves, making the most efficient use of the ramp impossible. That this part of the improvement be included had been an urgent request from the local Chamber of Commerce.

Much of the rock being used for the wall extension is being taken off the top of the present wall between Santa Monica and Newport, the rock there installed in the early winter having settled to what is believed to be its maximum depth. Though lowered about four feet, the wall will still be high enough to turn back the highest tides, believe those in charge. Additional rock will be hauled in, if needed, reports Mr. Parker.

Parker, who resides in Ocean Beach on Del Monte ave., Wednesday provided the interesting figure of 7,295 tons as the total of rock that have been placed by the city in this Ocean Beach sea wall from Dec. 28, 1943 to date.

NAVY PROVIDES SHORE PATROL IN RESPONSE TO BUSINESS MEN'S REQUEST

Law enforcement took another step forward in Ocean Beach during the past week, when the Eleventh Naval district headquarters gave prompt response to the Chamber of Commerce request for a shore patrol in the local business district. A patrol of two men was put on the latter part of last week. The two are on duty from six p.m. to one a.m. and are doing good work in keeping order on the main streets here, report local business men.

Along with the shore patrol, the navy and the city are cooperating in plans, already approved for a four-cell sub-station at the Mission Beach amusement center, in which law violating servicemen will be taken care of instead of taking them into the San Diego city jail. Servicemen arrested by the Ocean Beach police also will be turned over to the navy at the Mission Beach sub-patrol station instead of in town as heretofore, reports Sgt. R. J. Karrow of the local police station.

HELMER HAS FOUR SONS AND FOUR SONS-IN-LAW IN MILITARY SERVICE

Loyal J. Helmer, 5024 Newport ave., certainly was rightly named by his folks. He modestly admitted Tuesday that all his four sons and four of his five sons-in-law are in the military service. He and his fifth son-in-law are working in war industry here in San Diego.

The four sons are Cpl. John Helmer, U.S. army, Fort Gordon, Ga.; 1st Sgt. Loyal Helmer, Camp Claiborne, La.; Clyde Helmer, seaman, at Great Lakes naval training station, Chicago; and Charles O. Helmer, storekeeper, 1/c, serving on a destroyer in the Pacific.

Mr. Helmer sr., who moved here from Hayward, Wis. to work in defense industry, is employed as an iron worker in the National Iron Works plant at the foot of Seventh ave.

LEWIS T. OAKS MOVES BUSINESS TO BACON STREET

Lewis T. Oaks this week is moving his home movie business from Voltaire st. to 1874 Bacon st., the move being the result of Red's Cafe on Voltaire having been enlarged. Mr. Oaks' new location is in the Dr. J. W. Wilhoit building formerly occupied by a hand laundry. Lewis Oaks is assisting his son, Lewis T., in the operation of the business.

THE RED CROSS IN OCEAN BEACH

By ONA E. PITCOCK

You probably noticed in the papers that the garden party took in over $3,000. Ocean Beach ladies certainly did their part. There were no nicer articles than ours and every one sold.

I want to quote you part of a letter sent to us by Mrs. Nellie R. Bond, field director, U.S. Naval hospital. She writes: "The 13 boxes for the 13 original states were very appropriate for July 4. We made a special party for the patients in the contagious ward. These men are confined and we feel that anything special that we have to offer should go to them. They are so appreciative of everything we offer."

"The group at Ocean Beach are doing a marvelous piece of work in contributing to the high morale of the patients here. We know that we can count on you for the birthday tea cakes and cookies. Sometimes we make a birthday party out of just one box. Let me thank you for your continued interest in the service-men here."

Mrs. Fred Payne, production chairman, writes us: "The production corps is most appreciative of your generous gifts for the recent garden party. May I on behalf of the production corps and for Mrs. Edgar Luce, chairman of the American Red Cross and British War Relief Thrift Shop, thank you personally for assisting in the success of the production booths. Will you express our appreciation to all those who assisted you in making the numerous articles you donated."

"Please especially thank Mrs. Dare for serving as cashier on the day of the party."

"The apron booth when the last monies are turned in, will report $430 as their part of the proceeds we received."

Some of our articles such as the clothespin bags, laundry bags, pillow tops, crocheted scarf, table cloths and napkins were sold from the utility booth and I have not heard from that booth as yet.

All who have old cellophane from past Christmases are asked to please bring same to the Center or call B-5639 and we will pick it up. Camp and hospital are making Christmas tree decorations from it. Also please remember we want beach umbrellas. It would be well if you started to pick up articles for the Christmas boxes as we have many more in our hospitals now.

We try so hard to do the little things that make their burdens a little lighter for our service-men and if you would realize what the cookies mean to them you would not begrudge the time it takes to make the cookies. Every Tuesday is cookie day and if you can have them by 11 o'clock we will call for them if you cannot bring them to the Center.

The surgical dressing room at the Marine base is moving its quarters but same will soon be painted and ready. In the meantime, please go to Loma Portal Browning school room as dressings are badly needed.

Always remember you are the Red Cross and that the Red Cross is always at his side.

Please send in funny magazines and all other good reading. They are sorely needed.

CUB SCOUTERS MEET IN AZURE VISTA RELATIVE TO FORMING NEW CUB PACK

A meeting of the Cub Scouters was held Friday at the Community center, Azure Vista, relative to forming a new "Cub Pack" for boys of this housing project.

Present were J. R. Newman, cubmaster; W. F. Keck, assistant cubmaster; and the following ladies who are "Den Mothers": Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Hargis. A number of parents were present, also Scoutmaster Jones of troop 50.

The meeting was addressed by Don Sweetwood, area field executive, and by F. J. Tucker, assistant district commissioner.

POLICE STATION HAS UNUSUAL NUMBER OF CALLS FOR FIRST AID

First aid calls to the Ocean Beach police station were more numerous than usual during the past week, reports Sgt. R. J. Karrow, the number cared for totaling 26 in the one week. While there were no serious results, he says, the list of injuries included rock and glass cuts, stingray gashes, burns, fish hook cuts, burns, fractures and one epileptic case.

Kiwanians Hear Life Sketches of Members Tuesday

By way of making the members better acquainted with each other, the Ocean Beach Kiwanians were each called on to give a brief sketch of his life, as a feature of the program of the Tuesday meeting, July 18, held at Glen's Drive-In. At least 30 members responded, and the guests present also joined in requesting. Of special interest was the fact that only one member, Rollin Reed, was born and has lived all his life in San Diego. Practically all the members indicated that their birthplaces were in states other than California. Wisconsin led the list of the states in this respect.

Pinch-hitting for Secretary Burritt S. Mills was Marc Strauss, the secretary being indisposed because of a strenuous teeth extraction session with a local dentist. Marc read the secretary's report for the first half of 1944, outlining the achievements of the club in community service. The report showed that Ocean Beach club has an outstanding record in this regard in 1944.

Guests at the meeting were Robert Davidson of San Diego, Lt. W. G. Botterbosh of the Naval hospital and Pat Patterson of Mission Beach.

Program Chairman Milt Lancaster for the meeting of Tuesday, July 25, reports that James A. Abbey of San Diego, Republican nominee for congress, will be the speaker.

IN THE SERVICE -

Chief Yeoman R. H. Fuller, 5076 Saratoga ave., who has been on duty at the Eleventh naval district headquarters in San Diego, expects to be assigned next week to duty with the Pacific fleet. His wife and two children plan to remain here during his absence overseas.

Walter Lee Jones, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Turner, 4867 Muir ave., is now a student at the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis, Md., having entered there on June 12. He studied during the past school year at the Annapolis Preparatory school at Bainbridge, Md. While a resident of Ocean Beach he attended the local elementary school for several years. His home is now at San Francisco. His brother, Paul, who also attended the Ocean Beach elementary school, is in the navy serving as an engineer, 2/c, on an L.S.T. boat.

Word has been received that Lt. Leslie E. Tucker is in a U.S. hospital in England as a result of shrapnel wounds received in Normandy, also that he has been awarded the Purple Heart. Lieut. T. Arthur Tucker, who has been attached to the headquarters staff, 2nd Air Force at Colorado Springs is expecting to be assigned to a super bomber (B-29) wing, as wing gunnery officer. The parents of the two officers, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Tucker, live on Santa Monica ave.

Ens. M. Douglas Smith, U. S. N. R., who has been visiting since July 5 at the home of his mother, Mrs. F. M. Spikes, 2151 Sunset Cliffs blvd., left this week to report for duty at Wilmington, Calif. His roommate, "Bill" Vogel, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Lloyd Anderson, on Niagara ave., also left for duty with the U. S. naval reserve at Wilmington. The latter was accompanied here by his bride. Both young men have been attending a merchant marine academy at New York.

Lt. Col. Raymond L. Murray, whose wife and 4-year-old son reside at 4868 Del Monte ave., was this week reported wounded in action in the recent fierce fighting on the beaches of Saipan island, which the Yanks took from the Japs in about the bloodiest campaign of the Pacific war to date. Murray was reported to be first in command of a crack Marine outfit that changed commands four times in the first 10 hours of the battle on the Saipan beachhead.

Trinity church young people announce a buffet supper to be held at the church at 6 Sunday evening, to which they are inviting the public generally. They promise an entertaining program along with the supper.

Mass Meeting On Recreation Center Called

A mass meeting to hear plans for a community recreation center for Ocean Beach will be held Tuesday evening, Aug. 1, starting at 7:45 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Ocean Beach elementary school, Rev. James F. Roberts, chairman of the community - civic committee announced today. "All residents of Ocean Beach are urged to attend this important meeting," said the chairman. "Come prepared to hear good news for every member of the family. It is of vital interest to all the people in our community to be present at this mass meeting."

Splendid cooperation has been obtained from the city council, according to Chairman Roberts. At this week's council session, the city was authorized to purchase the 15 lots across the street north from the elementary school for use as the playground center and City Manager Walter W. Cooper was directed to enter into negotiation with the owners of the property in question.

At the Aug. 1 meeting plans will be presented by the community-civic committee to inform Ocean Beach people of the progress that has been made toward realizing a recreation center for all members of Ocean Beach families.

Chairman Roberts also announces that G. C. Crary of La Jolla, the new city councilman for this part of San Diego, will make his first personal appearance at a public meeting in Ocean Beach. "He has shown enthusiastic interest in helping Ocean Beach get the necessary improvements for community betterment and progress," says Roberts.

The chairman also says that he has a special "surprise" to announce to Ocean Beach at the Aug. 1 meeting.

Civilian Defense - - -

DISTRICT NO. 7
Bayview 6101.

Many of our ladies are again busy making lap and jeep robes and slippers. We need more help. See your "block leader." She needs volunteer helpers to cut and sew the materials into these robes and slippers. "Block" leaders who need materials, please call Bayview 6101.

We wish to acknowledge receipt of 50 crossword puzzles from Mrs. Maier, sector C, and 25 puzzles from Mrs. H. H. Hartvigsen, sector N. These little "time-passers" are always welcomed by the boys at the hospitals. Keep making them up. Try to bring a few to our next monthly meeting at the Assembly of God church, Cape May and Ebers on Aug. 7.

Also among the welcomed gifts are the model airplanes and jeep kits. These kits give the boys many useful hours of recreation. It is but a small item for us to give considering the enjoyment they bring to the boys confined to the hospitals. Many who can not give of their time to volunteer work, can assist materially in donating various useful gifts.

The following articles have recently been turned in: four decks of playing cards, practically new, one new deck of cards, (gift wrapped), six pairs of slippers, 75 crossword puzzles, one novel, 10 small glasses, seven hospital shirts, one radio head set and 13 large size lap robes and jeep robes.

With reference to the "victory" bell, mentioned last week, permission was granted to Mrs. Fraser, chairman of the women's division block plan, Civilian Defense Council, to ring a "victory" bell at the Plaza every day at noon. Mrs. Fraser explained that the bell will be rung seven strokes, one for each letter in the word "VICTORY," as a reminder to the public to pray for the safety of our men overseas and an early winning of the war.

Bertha K. Leadbeater.

Rev. Myron C. Insko, graduate of Point Loma High School and State College, together with his wife and two children, are making a two-weeks visit with his parents, Dr. Myron Insko, executive secretary of the Goodwill Industries, and Mrs. Insko.

The Ocean Beach police report that the 1944-1945 bicycle licenses have arrived at the local station, and are now on sale to the Ocean Beach owners of bikes.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Allies Move Ahead in Normandy; DeGaulle Visit to White House Poses New Diplomatic Problem

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

EUROPE:

Yanks Gain

Developing their offensive on the western end of the French battlefield, U. S. troops drove through marshy land to envelop the communications hubs of La Haye and St. Lo against the bitter opposition of an enemy taking every advantage of the soggy ground and hedgerowed landscape.

On the eastern end of the front, British and Canadian troops battled large concentrations of German forces on the approaches of Caen, from which Field Marshal Rommel was sending out strong detachments in counterattacks to impede the Allies' thrust inland toward the important Paris region.

As the Allies nudged forward in Normandy, Berlin announced the replacement of Anti-Invasion Chief von Rundstedt by Field Marshal von Kluge, who led the Nazi sweep through France in 1940, and was at the helm during the drive on Moscow during the first year of the Russian war.

Other Fronts

Colling massed artillery into play from dominating heights, the Germans poured fire on Allied troop movements in Italy to slow their steady drive up the long peninsula to the rich agricultural and industrial regions of the north.

In Russia, German forces continued to give ground before strong Red armies massed along a 350-mile front in the north to escape encirclement and destruction. Near Wilno, the Reds milled on the threshold of the Baltic states, while farther to the south their pressure forced evacuation of Kowel, bending the enemy line farther back toward Warsaw.

Focal point of German resistance in Italy was below the famed port of Livorno (Leghorn), whose capture promised to give the Allies another good Mediterranean harbor for the easier transport of troops and supplies for the crucial fighting in the north.

DIPLOMACY:

French Problem

U. S. support of the De Gaulle administration of liberated French territory without formal recognition of it as a legal government was the latest diplomatic problem up for settlement in Washington, D.C., with De Gaulle's arrival in the nation's capital for discussions with President Roosevelt.

De Gaulle winged his way over from North Africa to seek approval of his negotiations with Britain, under which his administration would take control of liberated territory, arrange for supply and equipment of underground forces through lend-lease, and settle disputed property rights caused by transfers of ownership under Nazi occupation and Allied requisitioning for military purposes.

Although long complimentary to De Gaulle's Free French movement, the U. S. has been cautious in recognizing it as the legal representative of the people, declaring that only an election could determine their choice when circumstances permitted.

TRAGEDIES:

Circus Fire

Overhead the famed Wallandas prepared for their celebrated tight-wire act on bicycles as 6,000 happy spectators awaited the performance under the big canvas tent of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus in Hartford, Conn.

Near a sidewall of the tent, a small flame was noticed. Suddenly, it flared and leaped upward, with great patches of burning canvas falling when fire had seared them off. The cry of "Fire! Fire! Fire!" spread through the panic-stricken spectators, and their frantic shouts mingled with the din of roaring animals in the corral outside.

As the great sheets of burning canvas fell on top of the milling crowd below, adults and children struggled to make their way to safety, but scores were trapped, with some running into the steel ramps through which animals were led into the arena.

As rescue workers dug into the debris, they extricated the bodies of 135 victims, mostly children, and more seriously injured.

Miners Trapped

As scores of relatives of 64 miners trapped in the Powhatan pit near Bellaire, Ohio, waited hopefully at the mine entrance, officials grimly announced that the shaft would have to be sealed off to prevent the flow of oxygen feeding the raging flames underground.

In one last desperate effort to free the men entombed in a dead-end tunnel when a rock fall broke a high-voltage trolley wire along the main passageway and sizzling sparks ignited coal, skilled crews prepared to drill down 350 feet to open a shaft for lowering food and water.

In a previous effort to free the entombed men, rescue workers were cutting a new 500 foot tunnel through coal and rock to bypass the flames and reach the victims, when new fires halted their work.

Train Wreck

Climaxing the string of major tragedies was the derailment of a Louisville and Nashville train in Clear Fork River gorge near Jellico, Tenn., with early reports listing 25 dead and many injured.

Casualties on the troop-carrying train resulted when the locomotive and two coaches left the track and plunged 50 feet into the gorge, and two other cars overturned on the edge of the decline and caught fire.

Although hindered by darkness, rescue workers used acetylene torches to probe the wreckage and remove victims, while mountaineers hoisted the stricken up from the gorge with block and tackle.

CHINA:

Bloody Fighting

Fighting with their backs to the wall, Chinese troops stiffly resisted strong Japanese efforts to seal off the embattled country's whole eastern seacoast and strengthen their grip on the Asiatic mainland.

Chinese forces far to the southwest sought to join up with Allied troops driving through Burma to open up a new supply route to China from India. Only 26 miles of mountainous terrain stood between the two armies.

The 14th American air force joined in the savage battle in China, bombing and strafing the enemy and dropping tons of ammunition to the valiant defenders.

Many lives were saved by prompt action and available supplies in the field.

Wounded Flown Over Atlantic to Home Hospitals

Yank heroes wounded at Normandy are being loaded aboard transport planes in Scotland for return to hospitals in the United States. Pfc. Christian J. Mohr of Kenosha, Wis. (right) at transport command, Prestwick, Scotland, before he started the long air-ride. ## Youngsters Learn Railroading

Sixteen and seventeen-year-old boys are being used to augment the railroads' depleted operating force. A speed-up system that teaches in a brief period of 19 days all that a youngster needs to know to become a useful switchman, fireman, brakeman or flagman, is proving effective. Half of day is spent in school, half in actual work.

Future Building

The economical way of building the bathroom and kitchen of the near future may be to fabricate these rooms in the factory and ship them complete to the building site, some say. As built by presentday methods, these two rooms require more skilled manipulation, more experienced men to assemble on the job than any other rooms of the house. Now plastics cements may even make it possible to build without nails.

Need Potassium

Field experiments show that soybeans can tolerate a fairly high degree of phosphorus deficiency but suffer if supplies of available potassium are moderately low. Potassium can be applied by the use of manure, straw, muriate of potash or mixed fertilizers rich in potash. Fertilizers containing potash may be broadcast or drilled, but close contact with the seed should be avoided because it may be injurious to germination.

Diplomatic Service

The diplomatic service had begun in 1775 with a "committee of secret correspondence" appointed by congress to ascertain the attitude of foreign powers toward the warring Colonies. The committee included John Dickinson, Benjamin Franklin, Benjamin Harrison, John Jay and Thomas Johnson. Thomas Paine was secretary of the committee at a salary of $70 a month. Two years later the name was changed to "committee of foreign affairs" and conducted foreign correspondence until 1781, when the "department of foreign affairs" was established.

Harvesting Peas

It requires less than 18 hours of man labor to grow and harvest a crop of canning peas, according to a survey.

Control Pests

Beans require rotenone or poison spray or dust to control the Mexican bean beetle. Cucumbers, melons and squash need a combination "melon dust" for control of cucumber beetle and plant disease; squash may require treatment for squash borer and squash bug, which is usually a rotenone dusting each week. Potatoes are covered with a poison for control of potato beetle and flea beetle, and are sprayed with Bordeaux or dusted with copper-lime for control of blight.

Big Policies

Six persons in the United States who died last year left over $1,000,000 life insurance, according to a special survey of the National Underwriter, insurance newspaper. The largest claim paid by life insurance companies in 1943 was slightly less than $2,000,000. There were four claims paid between $500,000 and $1,000,000; 21 between $300,000 and $500,000; 41 between $200,000 and $300,000; 68 between $100,000 and $200,000; 281 between $50,000 and $100,000; 1,057 between $30,000 and $50,000.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

FARM HANDS WANTED: The War Food administration estimates that 700,000 extra workers will be needed during the harvest season. Many of these will have to come from cities. A WFA official said "We will need approximately 12 million workers on farms to meet peak October requirements in harvesting. That means about 700,000 city workers must be recruited."

UNREST: Uprisings in Honduras and Nicaragua are reported as unrest appears to be spreading throughout the small nations of Central America. A dispatch from San Salvador stated that the president of Honduras had already resigned, and that a passive resistance movement was developing against the president of Nicaragua. Guatemala too, was the scene of rioting.

HIGH COSTS REPORTED ON COLLECTIVIST PROJECTS
ONE OF THE NEW DEAL theoretical ideas for aid to the down-trodden farmer was the establishment of collectivist farms under government management. It was the product of the brain of Rexford Tugwell when he was assistant secretary of agriculture, and was supposed to be along the lines of the Russian collective, government - managed farms.

Recently Democratic Congressman Harold D. Cooley, of North Carolina, offered some figures showing what results were attained. There were 197 such projects established in the United States, one of the larger ones being the Scuppernon Homesteads of 11,309 acres in North Carolina, with a government investment of $796,000, an average of $11,000 for each farm family involved and settled on the land.

It was a strictly and completely government-managed property, including farm, community and home managers. The loss on operation alone to June, 1942 amounted to $74,000. When to that loss were added interest on the investment and government loans to the farm families, it meant a cost to the government of $18,000 for each one of the farm families, no one of which was permanently benefited.

Scuppernon is a sample of government management, but it was not the most costly of the 197 collectivist farm experiments, none of which were permanently benefited. On the other hand, the Farm Security Administration, by a simple rehabilitation loan program, rendered material aid in putting 950,000 farmers on their feet. Of the amount due on those loans, 88 per cent has been repaid. The loans meant the creation of opportunity for the individual to help himself — the maintenance of his American self-respect and his operation under the private enterprise system.

The American farmer is too much of a sturdy individualist to take kindly to, or develop under, any system of regulation or regimentation. He can manage his own affairs.

NATIONAL DEBT JUST KEEPS GOING UP

YEARS AGO, back in 1880, when I was but a small boy, a group of town and farm patriarchs would sit around the big wood-burning stove in the general store of the village of Ainsworth, Iowa. Their discussions centered frequently on national affairs and especially the, to them, appalling national debt occasioned by the cost of the Civil war. Some of them harked back to the good old days of 1840 when the national debt amounted to but 21 cents per capita, with a national population of but 17 million. In 1880, because of the cost of the Civil war, it stood at the, to them, staggering sum of $1.69 per capita, with a population of over 50 million. I wonder what those good citizens of 1880 would say of conditions of today with a national debt of well beyond $1,380 per capita, over $6,000 for the average-sized family. Those patriarchs realized they and their children had to pay that debt of 1880, and we and our children must pay, each his full share, the debt of today and tomorrow and next year. We have reason to demand economy in the civilian activities of government.

PAY FARMER FOR PRODUCING NEEDED ITEMS

A CASTOR BEAN PLANT persists in growing in my yard. Each time I see it I am reminded of the more than 50 million we pay to farmers in other lands for the castor beans we import each year. With a bit of encouragement in the way of a protected home market, or a small subsidy to provide a start, that 50 million dollars might be going to American farmers. There are but few, if any, sections in the United States in which castor beans would not grow. In addition to what we are now importing we could use more, far more, as a substitute for wood pulp in the making of paper. We are depending upon imports for more than 60 other products that could be raised on American farms if we were inclined to encourage their production. The total would add hundreds of millions to our farm income. We could pay the farmer for producing rather than for not producing.

DOING YOUR BEST ON EVERY JOB

NOT ALL OF US HAVE the ability to fill executive positions, but the demand for executives is never entirely filled. We are not capable of judging our own qualifications for such a job, others must do that for us. What it takes we can demonstrate by doing our best on each job we hold on the way to the top. Chances are if we do not achieve our ambition it is because of something lacking on the part of the aspirant.

Ack-Ack Crews Do a Good Job Covering Yank Landings

Crews Sleepless, Fight On Night After Night Clearing Air of Axis

By Ernie Pyle

NORMANDY.—One of the most vital responsibilities during these opening weeks of our war on the Continent of Europe has been the protection of our unloading beaches and ports.

For over and through them must pass, without interruption, and in great masses, our buildup of men and material in sufficient masses to roll the Germans clear back out of France.

Nothing must be allowed to interfere with that unloading. Everything we can lay our hands on is thrown into the guarding of those beaches and ports. Allied ground troops police them from the land side.

Our two navies protect them from sneak attacks by sea. Our great air supremacy makes daytime air assaults rare and costly.

It is only at night that the Germans have a chance. They do keep pecking away at us with night bombers, but their main success in this so far has been keeping us awake and making us dig our foxholes deeper.

Here on the beachhead the falling flak becomes a real menace—one of the few times I've known that to happen in this war. Every night for weeks, pieces of exploded shells have come whizzing to earth within 50 yards of my tent. Once an unexploded ack-ack shell buried itself half a stone's throw from my tent.

A good portion of our army on the beachhead now sleeps all night in foxholes, and some of the troops have swung over to the Anglo beachhead custom of building dugouts in order to be safe from falling flak.

For a long time I have intended doing a series about the anti-aircraft gunners. I'm glad I never got around to it before, for here on the Normandy beachhead our ack-ack seems to have reached its peak.

Figures are not permissible but I can say that right now we have many, many ack-ack soldiers on the beachhead and that by the time everything has arrived the number will be much larger.

And that is speaking only of ack-ack men who do nothing else. In addition there are thousands of gunners attached to divisions and other units who double in brass when planes come over and shoot at anything that passes low.

Our ack-ack is commanded by a general officer, which indicates how important it is. His hundreds of gun batteries even intercept planes before they near the beaches. The gun positions are plotted on a big wall map in his command tent, just as the battle lines are plotted by infantry units. A daily score is kept of the planes shot down—confirmed ones and probabilities. Just as an example of the effectiveness of our ack-ack, one four-gun battery alone shot down 15 planes in the first two weeks.

Up to the time this is written the Germans don't seem to have made up their minds exactly what they are trying to do in the air. They wander around all night long, usually in singles but sometimes in numbers, but they don't do a great deal of bombing. Most of them turn away at the first near burst from one of our 90-mm. guns. Our ack-ack men say they think the German pilots are yellow, but having seen the quality of German fighting for nearly two years now that is hard for me to believe.

Often they will drop flares that will light up the whole beach area, and then fail to follow through and bomb by the light of their flares. The ack-ack men say that not more than two out of ten planes that approach the beachhead ever make their bomb runs over our shipping. You are liable to get a bomb anywhere along the coastal area, for many of the Germans apparently just salvo their bombs and highball home.

It is indeed a spectacle to watch the anti-aircraft fire when the Germans actually get over the beach area. All the machine guns on the ships lying off the beaches cut loose with their red tracer bullets, and those on shore do too. Their bullets arch in all directions and fuse into a sky-filling pattern. The lines of tracers bend and wave and seem like streams of red water from hoses. The whole thing becomes a gigantic, animated fountain of red in the black sky. And above all this are the split-second golden flashes of big-gun shells as they explode high up toward the stars. The noise is terrific. Sometimes

'Ma Petite Cherie'—Is Now a Jeep in Normandy

It is the custom throughout our army, as you doubtless know, for soldiers to paint names on their vehicles. They have names on airplanes, tanks, jeeps, trucks, guns and practically everything that moves.

Well, the boys have already started painting French names on their vehicles. I saw a jeep named "Bientot," which means "soon," and low clouds catch the crack of these many guns and scramble them all into one gigantic roar which rolls and thunders like the blood-curdling approach of a hurricane.

If you're sleeping in a foxhole, little clouds of dirt come rolling down upon you.

When the planes are really close and the guns are pounding out a mania of sound, you put on your steel helmet in bed and sometimes you drop off to sleep with it on and wake up with it on in the morning and feel very foolish.

American anti-aircraft gunners began playing their important part in the Battle of Normandy right on D-Day and shortly after H-Hour.

Ordinarily you wouldn't think of the anti-aircraft coming ashore with the infantry, but a little bit of everything came ashore on that memorable day—from riflemen to press censors, from combat engineers to chaplains—and everybody had a hand in it.

The ack-ack was given a place in the very early waves because the general in command felt that the Germans would throw what air strength they had onto the beaches that day and he wanted his men there to repel it.

As it turned out, the Germans didn't use their planes at all and the ack-ack wasn't needed to protect the landings from air attack. So, like many other units, they turned themselves into infantry or artillery and helped win the battle of the beaches. They took infantrylike casualties, too. One unit lost half of its men and guns.

When I started rounding up material for this ack-ack series I ran onto the story of one crew of ack-ackers who had knocked out a German 88 deeply ensconced in a thick concrete emplacement—and did it with a tiny 37-mm. gun, which is somewhat akin to David slaying Goliath.

So I hunted up this crew to see how they did it. By that time they had moved several miles inland. I found them at the edge of a small open field far out in the country.

Their gun had been dug into the ground. Two men sat constantly in their bucket seats behind the gun, keeping watch on the sky even in the daytime. The others slept in their pup tents under the bushes, or just loafed around and brewed an occasional cup of coffee.

The commander of this gun is Sgt. Hyman Haas of Brooklyn. Sergeant Haas is an enthusiastic and flustering young man who was practically beside himself with delight when I showed up at their remote position, for he had read this column back in New York but hadn't supposed our trails would ever cross in an army this big. When I told him I wanted to write a little about his crew he beamed and said:

"Oh boy! Wait till Flatbush avenue hears about this!"

Their story is this—They came ashore behind the first wave of infantry. A narrow valley leading away from the beach at that point was blocked by the German 88, which stopped everything in front of it. So Driver Bill Hendrix from Shreveport, La., turned their half-track around and drove the front end back into the water so the gun would be pointing in the right direction.

Then the boys poured 23 rounds into the pillbox. Some of their shells hit the small gun slits and went inside. At the end of their firing, what Germans were left came out with their hands up.

The boys were very proud of their achievement, but I was kind of amused at their modesty. One of them said:

"The credit should go to Lieutenant Gibbs, because he gave us the order to fire."

The lieutenant is Wallace Gibbs of Charlotte, N. C. The other members of the crew are Corp. John Jourdain of New Orleans; Private Frank Bartolomeo of Ulevi, Pa.; Private Joseph Sharpe of Clover, S. C.; Pfc. Frank Furey of Brooklyn; Corp. Austin Laurent Jr. of New Orleans; and Private Raymond Bullock of Coello, Ill.

a motorcycle named "Char de Mort, which means "Chariot of Death." Pretty soon we will be seeing jeeps named "Yvonne" and "Ma Petite Cherie."

The names of a lot of the French towns in our area are tongue twisters for our troops, so the towns quickly become known by some unanimous application of Americanese.

Midwest 'Nationalist' View Result of 'Honest Doubt'

Isolationism in Prairie States Is Not "Head in Sand" Viewpoint; Stems From Fear of Entanglements.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

The flag over the White House lazily embraces its staff; squirrels and starlings loaf on the wide lawn; the east gate is still locked but the pacing sentry is gone and only the friendly White House police and secret service men guard the western portal and scrutinize the credentials of visitors, most of whom they know. There is "no admittance except on business," but these days, as the delegates to the Democratic national convention meet in Chicago, much of the "business" here, as elsewhere, is politics.

Some things of political significance have happened since the Republicans chose their candidates in the sweltering heat of the Chicago Stadium, now warming the blood of their opponents.

By this time it is clear that the Democratic meeting, always a more spirited affair than the Republican conclave, has a serious undertone, even though "the Democrats love a Donnybrook," as one of them just reminded me.

There is one outstanding reason for the need of some very careful planning on the part of the administration supporters even though they feel confident that the country will not "swap horses in the middle of a stream."

One veteran politician, ardently anti-administration but too long a laborer in the vineyard to let his emotions run away with his hard sense, said to me: "This time the Republicans have a ticket that the people who don't want Roosevelt can vote for." That seems faint praise but it was not meant to be damning.

Of course, you don't have to be a cynic to admit that the vote which usually wins a presidential election is a vote against the man or the party in power. The preponderance of that vote is motivated by the good old American idea that in government, variety is the spice of the nation's life. Since Hitler started on the rampage a purely artificial situation has existed which tended to nullify that natural trend. And the one, big imponderable in the coming election is the relative weight of those two ancient slogans "throw the rascals out" and "don't swap horses while crossing a stream."

Because the Republican leaders realized this they tried to subvert all other efforts to the end of minimizing the importance of anything which administration stands for, which affects the war and international relations. That is why harmony was achieved as it was not achieved at the Philadelphia convention, and why the fiercely conflicting forces were silenced behind closed doors leaving the delegates on the floor as harmonious as a Hayden string quartet.

The real job was to keep the convention from producing a foreign plank which would anger the isolationists, which would make it possible for the Democrats to say, "as far as world affairs go, you won't benefit by making a change, and you might affect the war, or the peace."

Strong 'Nationalist' Feeling in Middle West

How strongly "nationalist" the Middle West is is not realized. One Republican who has done as much as any to try to work out a compromise between the Wendell Willkie philosophy of foreign relations and the isolationist viewpoint said to me when the tempest in the sub-committee drawing up the foreign policy plank was having its fiercest conflict:

"You have no idea how the isolationist sentiment out here has grown in the last few weeks. These people don't want to be isolationists but if they are forced to go on record with a choice they will choose that way."

This was when Willkie, Governor Edge of New Jersey and others were demanding stronger language in the plank, seeking to commit the Republican party to a more positive postwar program of international cooperation.

That was finally avoided. Partly by building up a "world-state" straw-man and knocking it over, partly by insisting on phrases capable of wide interpretation, and turning the interpretation over to the candidates. The second compromise—Bricker's acceptance of the vice presidential nomination—was really a part of the first, made in the hope that Bricker's middlewestern atmosphere and Dewey's eastern flavor could produce a mixture palatable to all.

After the convention I set out to look into this so-called midwest isolationism, for when I first heard that phrase "they don't want to be isolationist" I didn't quite know what it meant. Later I think I found out. I spent the evening in a private home of two middle-class middlewesterners, a retired engineer and his wife, a college-bred, prairie-farm girl.

My host first showed me the progress of his Victory garden, one of many that crop up over the wide lawns of the comfortable suburban community, with its corn and beans, squash and parsnips (ummm, I said, fried parsnips, we can't get them in Washington).

We stopped in next door where the neighbor lady (who works in a war industry) was just preparing a batch of currant jelly. At dinner (I was just about to say supper) there were thick, luscious pork chops and apple sauce and tiny green onions from the garden, fresh, crisp and sweet. I was, of course "back home in Illinois" and felt it was only yesterday since I left.

On the porch, under the blossoming catalpas, I did as much listening as my too agile tongue would permit. We started talking international affairs. I heard plenty of references to Swing and Lippman and Harpers and the Atlantic monthly, but across the whole conversation I felt the bitter wind that blows from the Tribune tower—I know of no newspaper in the country which the profession (feet up, after "30") criticizes as sharply, including its own alumni, but there is no question that the Chicago Tribune is as much a part of the prairie state as the wind that ripples its broad green fields of corn.

An Honest Doubt Of International Set-Up

I am not citing this family, normal Republicans, for their economic views, but to show what Midwest isolationism is: namely, an honest doubt that any strong international organization which in any way "commits" the United States to act in the foreign field in close cooperation with either Great Britain (who they fear "leads us by the nose") or Russia (whom they regard as the "heathen Chinese" of Bret Hart, noted for "ways that are dark"—or worse).

This viewpoint is not the ostrich, "head-in-the-sand" viewpoint, it is an honest and deep and overshadowing doubt. And if the intellectual feel that way consider how those who don't get the "other side" feel, to say nothing of people like the ones who tried to storm the Bricker headquarters at the convention, led by the lunatic fringe of the screaming isolationists.

These people aren't worrying half as much about not swapping horses crossing a stream as they are about getting out of the stream.

And so what the Democrats are having to consider is this: to what degree will this attitude affect the large "throw them out" element and thus overcome the "don't throw them out until we've got across the river" feeling?

Democrats will tell you that they have what they need: the "liberals", the labor vote, part of the farmer vote and enough of "just votes"—the kind that kept Roosevelt in office after the protest-support which put him in had worn off. I wouldn't be surprised if that were true. But there are many border-line Republicans, and discontented, fair-weather Democrats who may feel the way my politician friend did when he said there was a ticket which the people who don't want Roosevelt could vote for.

At the present convention there is a very careful consideration of these factors. When Senator Pepper of Florida, ardent New Dealer, sounded the warning to the revolting southern Democrats, he was, perhaps, giving voice to a deeper distress. He said a split in the Democratic party would assure the election of a Republican. What he may have meant was that a lot of folks whose political feet are itching have at last decided that most of the "shootin' over" and they think it is safe to hunt a "better ole."

About 90,000 more volunteers are needed to continue the price control program. Do you want to keep prices honest?

About 32,500 recruited workers from Mexico, 5,250 from Jamaica, 5,100 from the Bahama Islands and 450 from Newfoundland are working on American farms.

Since the beginning of the war, 15,000 trans-Atlantic flights between the United States and England have been made.

Persons who volunteer for spare-time labor on farms and in food processing plants this summer may apply for special gasoline rations to get to and from this work.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Add new rubber-producing plants: the ficus pumia linn and the Chromomorphia macrophylla. Both widely grown in China, if anyone is interested in these tongue twisters!

The peoples of the world should be the ultimate beneficiaries of the war-born, large-scale competition between natural rubber and synthetic rubber. In the opinion of John L. Collyer, president of B. F. Goodrich. He anticipates that this benefit may be in the form of lower-cost materials to the public and the wider use of rubber made possible by its low cost in many new applications.

ATHLETE'S FOOT NEWS

"80.6% of sufferers showed CLINICAL IMPROVEMENT after only 10-day treatment with SORETONE"

Foster D. Snell, Inc., well-known consulting chemists, have just completed a test with a group of men and women suffering from Athlete's Foot. These people were told to use Soretone. At the end of only a ten-day test period, their feet were examined in two ways: 1. Scrapings were taken from the feet and examined by the bacteriologist. 2. Each subject was examined by a physician. We quote from the report:

"After the use of Soretone according to the directions on the label for a period of only ten days, 80.6% of the cases showed clinical improvement of an infection which is most stubborn to control."

Improvements were shown in the symptoms of Athlete's Foot—the itching, burning, redness, etc. The report says:

"In our opinion Soretone is of very definite benefit in the treatment of this disease, which is commonly known as 'Athlete's Foot.'"

So if Athlete's Foot troubles you, don't temporize with this nasty, devilish, stubborn infection. Get SOROTONAL McKesson & Robbins, Inc., Bridgeport, Connecticut.

THE OCEAN BEACH NEWS

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY AT

1922 BACON STREET, OCEAN BEACH, CALIFORNIA

Entered as second-class matter December 1, 1922, at the post office in Ocean Beach, San Diego, Calif., under the Act of March 3, 1897.

FRANKLIN F. SWAN..... Owner and Publisher

FOR A BETTER OCEAN BEACH

Ocean Beach is to be congratulated on having forward looking civic leaders. A petition is being circulated by a half dozen of these leaders asking the city council to place Ocean Beach area "under architectural review regulations of the city planning commission." The purpose, of course, is to prevent the construction or moving in of shacks or other undesirable buildings, in the residential parts of the community, in particular.

Under stress of congested housing war conditions the tendency here as elsewhere has been to build or move in most any kind of a living place, and after the war, unless this city regulation is adopted Ocean Beach may not continue to have so large a proportion of fine homes as at present. For about eight years Ocean Beach residential building has been of the finer and more attractive type so this community is no longer a temporary-dwelling beach resort. The good work should be continued.

John A. Titlow and his helpers, who are circulating the petitions, are to be congratulated and commended for their efforts to make Ocean Beach, the community beautiful.

WEEKLY
PASSSAN DIEGO ELECTRIC
RAILWAY COMPANY

We want you to be forewarned

As you may have read in the newspapers, the Office of Defense Transportation has given the railroads authority to take train space from civilian passengers at any time, to make room for wounded service men.

We sincerely hope that people planning trips not essential to the war effort will cancel their plans so that more room will be left on trains, and so make it unnecessary to take these drastic steps. We are going to take care of these wounded men first. They come first with us, and we believe they come first with you. But we and other railroads would dislike very much to cancel reservations at the last minute, or to make people already on trains give up their space.

The invasion of Europe has started, and how great the toll of wounded will be nobody knows. We have our wounded from the Pacific coming in too. And more and more cars must be taken for them from the restricted amount of equipment left after the regular military requirements are met.

We cannot guarantee that if you start a trip you will be able to get space returning. You must face that fact. If you're away from home on a pleasure trip and emergency space cancellations must be made, you may have great difficulty getting back.

For some time we have been urging people not to travel except on essential business. We haven't enjoyed doing this. For many years we have been trying to promote travel, and it "goes against the grain" to suggest that people stay off the trains. The very fact that we have issued these appeals should indicate the seriousness.

ODT order emphasizes this.

Why don't we provide more cars, then? Virtually no new cars can be built during war time. Materials are scarce, and car builders have been making guns and tanks and other war equipment. With the biggest army and navy in our history, about 63% of all Pullman sleeping cars have to be used exclusively for military service. Travel by men in uniform on furlough, or traveling on orders, plus the greatly increased volume of business travel due to the war production effort, taxes the capacity of the remaining equipment used in regular passenger train service. There are no more passenger cars available. We must get along with what we have.

We have now reached the point where there just isn't room on our trains for people who don't have to travel.

People planning a vacation or other non-essential trip may think "There's always room for one more."

Well, there isn't.

If you are planning a train trip not essential to the war effort, we strongly advise you to change your plans, now.

Probably you have already read "Journey in the Dark" by Martin Flavin, the Harper Prize Novel for 1943-1944. As for me, I have just completed it, and I found it absorbing from the beginning. It is the study of an average man who grew up and made his fortune in the middle West. The understanding he is groping for throughout the book, he finally gains through tragedy. If you haven't read it, put it on your list of "musts." As an afterthought—Louella Parsons' autobiography "The Gay Illiterate" will be filmed by 20th Century Fox.

MR. WINKLE GOES TO WAR

By THEODORE PRATT

W.N.U. RELEASE

THE STORY THUS FAR: Forty-four-year-old Wilbert Winkle, who is the proprietor of a general repair shop in the alley back of his home, is notified by his draft board that he is in I-A. He had thought that the doctor who examined him would not overlook his dyspepsia, his near-sightedness and his caved-in chest. He breaks the bad news to his wife, Amy, and goes to work without kissing her goodbye. The next day a newspaper photographer calls on him at his shop and takes his picture, which appears later on the front page under the caption, "Winkle Proud to Fight." The story explains that Winkle was the first married selectee in Springfield to be called.

CHAPTER III

"The telephone's been ringing ever since the paper came out," she announced. "People I haven't seen or heard of in years have called. One woman I didn't know at all—I mean, she was a perfect stranger."

"What did she want?" asked Mr. Winkle.

Amy looked baffled. "I don't know," she replied. "She said she just felt she had to call. As if—oh, Wilbert, as if you were dead already."

Mrs. Winkle had often gazed at him as if herself wishing him dead,

The Pettigrews were first to arrive. Mrs. Pettigrew was red-eyed from weeping.

and now her concern that he might be killed seemed a little outlandish. Mr. Winkle merely said, "Well, I'm not dead."

"Wilbert, how do you really feel? This morning there wasn't time to find out," Mrs. Winkle gazed at him doubtfully.

Again, at her hesitancy, at this suggestion that the upper hand was being returned to him, Mr. Winkle had an impulse to remind her of certain things. And again he refrained, not thinking the urge was quite decent. But he did protest, "Amy, don't you look at me like that."

"Like what?" she asked.

"As if I—that mouse-look," he accused.

She looked abashed. At first Mr. Winkle could not accept the fact that the expression was on her face.

"I didn't mean to," she replied. She sounded humble.

"I can't help being the way I am," Mr. Winkle stated.

"Of course, dear. No one can," Mr. Winkle was amazed. But still he didn't say anything about the miracle occurring before his very eyes. He didn't care to embarrass Amy.

"I feel," he said in answer to her previous question, "like taking two doses for my dyspepsia." He fumbled in his pocket for his pills and brought them out.

"Some people are coming in tonight," Mrs. Winkle revealed as she bustled to get dinner. "Just the folks on the street."

Astounded, Mr. Winkle asked, "What for?"

"Well, they wanted to see you. Especially the Pettigrews. Their boy, Jack, has been called, too. He's twenty, you know. He'll be going off with you."

The evening, when it came around, was something of a combination of a funeral, a wedding, a family reunion, and a celebration for a person about to leave on a dangerous expedition.

The Pettigrews were the first to arrive. Mrs. Pettigrew was red-eyed from weeping, and she burst into new tears when she saw Mr. Winkle.

"They probably won't take you," she wept, "but Jack—Jack—they'll take him, and he's only a baby."

Mr. Pettigrew himself said, "This is crazy, Wilbert. Here's Jack, hardly over sucking his thumbs. And here's you, old enough to be his father."

Mr. Winkle and Jack eyed each other. The boy was self-conscious, as the young are in the presence of their elders who discuss them. Mr. Winkle, in his position as an adult, felt called upon to say something even though he really had nothing to say.

"Well, Jack," he told the boy, "it looks as if we're being called by our country."

"Yes, sir," Jack said. He could make no more of Mr. Winkle being drafted along with him than Mr. Winkle could make of Jack being selected along with him. Mr. Winkle wished that the boy wouldn't be quite so respectful.

More people came. They chattered, and gazed curiously at Mrs. Winkle, as if they couldn't believe what their eyes saw nor what their ears heard. Some of them were earnest about Mr. Winkle's predicament, some wondered, and others were amused. Mr. Winkle liked the last least of all. He didn't see why people should laugh at him.

Mr. Wescott, their next-door neighbor, a rather pompous individual, cornered Mr. Winkle and stated, "If you're the kind of soldier we're going to have, God help us." He stared at Mr. Winkle as if to ask him how he ever got himself into this.

Mr. Winkle didn't think this was very patriotic.

Mr. Wescott, who was prone to tell anybody all about how anything was conducted, and who could well afford to inform Mr. Winkle about his future because he was over forty-five and not subject to military duty, went on to say, "Of course, you know they won't use you as a combatant."

"You don't think so?" Mr. Winkle asked hopefully.

"Think it out for yourself, man," Mr. Wescott lectured. "They'll have enough young fellows to do the actual fighting. They want men in their proper places, according to their abilities. That's why they're calling you in the first place, so you can release a fighting man to fight."

Mr. Winkle was encouraged. "They won't waste you as a killer," Mr. Wescott assured him.

Mr. Winkle didn't know whether to feel flattered or insulted.

His neighbor looked at him critically, as if gauging him for the first time. "You wouldn't be any good, anyway. They'll use you in some kind of mechanical work."

"Well," said Mr. Winkle, "I could handle that." His courage took hold of him at this talk. "But, understand me, if I thought I was capable of using a gun, I'd do it anywhere they say."

"No, sir," Mr. Wescott went on, "you'll never see active service. I can tell you that. You don't have to worry about that for a minute."

Mr. Winkle ceased to worry, but only for the allowed minute, for Mr. Wescott then looked thoughtful and amended, "Of course, men of your age are being used for combat in all the other armies, and if things get to that stage with us, I suppose you've got to consider that you might have to do a little shooting or bayonet work."

When it was time for their visitors to leave, they shook Mr. Winkle's hand as if bidding him goodbye before he went into action. Mrs. Pettigrew's tears had dried, but her perturbation remained. She pleaded of Mr. Winkle, "You'll look after Jack, won't you?"

Mr. Winkle, despite all his timidity and ineffectual outer character, could appreciate the humor in a situation. "I think," he said, "Jack ought to look after me."

He and Jack glanced at each other, and both smiled. The condemned men had at least that mutual understanding.

It was nearly eleven before the last of the guests left. Penelope came out from the corner where she had sulked all evening at the invasion of her own peaceful life. Mr. Winkle, out of habit, took her to the back yard.

When he came in again he started for the radio, to turn it on for the nightly war news broadcast he usually favored. Then he stopped and didn't go near it, but turned toward the stairs.

"Aren't you going to listen to the war news?" Mrs. Winkle asked.

"I don't think I will tonight."

"But why?" Mrs. Winkle began to speak as if she were the same person as of before this morning. But she caught herself and then said merely, "Oh."

Mr. Winkle felt like pinching himself to be sure he was awake and that this was Amy showing such tact and consideration. He smiled a little, but not so she could see him, and he decided that it was very nice indeed to have her this way.

They went upstairs and there, while they prepared themselves for the night, Mrs. Winkle commented in a small voice that seemed to indicate she had other things to say but couldn't say them, "It was a nice party, wasn't it?"

"Except," said Mr. Winkle, "I don't see exactly why it was held."

Mr. Winkle found his imagination running away with itself until his mind was possessed of a nightmare.

He saw himself packed into a troop transport. He had seen pictures of how it was done. The bunks, one on top of another in many tiers, with only a narrow aisle between, made the men look like sardines. Across the ocean the ship throbbed. And then in the night there was a dull, jarring thud. The ship shuddered. It began to list. Its engines stopped. Flames rose and men pushed and fell and screamed and struck and jumped. Mr. Winkle was in the water, which was covered thickly with oil. The oil caught fire and the flames raced toward him.

He tried to blot out this picture. But it came again, and made him cold all over. He was bathed in perspiration. He began to shake slightly and found he couldn't control it, no matter how much he tried.

At that he learned how far Amy's reformation had gone, and how real it was, and that she was good-hearted all along as he always knew, and that now he was to become a soldier, she was willing to express her feelings about it, even if only silently.

Without a word, Mrs. Winkle turned in the bed beside him. She slipped a soft warm arm under his neck and put the other over his chest, and held him tightly. She seemed to understand.

Mr. Winkle was ashamed that she did, but greatly comforted, too.

The President of the United States To Wilbert George Winkle.

Greeting: Having submitted yourself to a local board composed of your neighbors for the purpose of determining your availability for training and service in the armed forces of the United States, you are hereby notified that you have now been selected for training and service in the Army.

Mr. Winkle had never before received a communication from the President.

Following his prominent newspaper appearance and the gathering of the people of Maple Avenue, he would look very foolish indeed if he were turned down and returned home after being sent to the Induction Center.

He understood that, even though accepted, he had the privilege of returning home for a week to put his affairs in order before leaving again for good. But his fellow draftees had all announced their intention of waiving the week's furlough, and now he followed suit. He had heard the jokes to the effect that if you could breathe or were warm, the Army would accept you, and though he didn't like to believe them, he prepared for going away and staying away.

As a precaution against a drastic circumstance, Mr. Winkle made his will, a ceremony that not even Penelope regarded as a happy one.

He finished the few jobs he had in the shop and would take no more. He packed away his tools in grease and oil, and tacked up heavy paper over the windows. He took in his sign and placed it on the floor with its face against the wall. In its place, over the doors, he placed a small sign saying, "Closed." He reflected that people who didn't know his establishment wouldn't know what was closed because he had taken in the other sign, but finally decided that this didn't matter in the least.

He was ready to leave. The evening before his departure he investigated the bag Amy had packed for him and brought downstairs. In it she had put those few articles listed in a pamphlet Mr. Winkle had purchased at a newsstand for guidance.

"Travel light, Mr. Selectee," this advised. "Don't load up with baggage because you won't have any use for it. The Army is going to clothe you. Mr. Selectee, complete to underwear, socks and handkerchiefs."

Only on one point had Mrs. Winkle deviated from the instructions. Upon examining her packing, Mr. Winkle found that she had included his rubbers. He now took them out. Firmly, showing a spark of her old spirit, Mrs. Winkle put them back again, rewrapping them in the tissue paper he stripped away. "With the rubber shortage," she said, "the Army may not have a pair for every man."

"I don't think they have rubbers in the Army," Mr. Winkle protested. "They won't let me wear them."

Jams to Help Save on Butter Next Winter

Berries for jams and jellies need picking over to remove the too-soft or wormy ones from the food. Use colander and large pans to make an easy job of this preliminary step.

Next winter when butter and other fats are scarce, you'll thank yourself for putting up a generous supply of jams, jellies, butters and marmalades to help spread bread and rolls.

Fruits and berries are plentiful now and good spreads can be made without using the one cup of sugar for one cup of fruit, in case your canning sugar is at a premium. In fact, in many cases you'll find that three-fourths of a cup of sugar to one cup of fruit will work perfectly well.

To assure success in making jams and jellies, watch cooking time carefully. In most cases, the juice from the fruit or berry is extracted slowly, but when juice and sugar are combined, cook quickly to finish so that none of the bright color of the fruit is sacrificed.

When the fruit or berry is low in natural pectin, use a commercial form and follow directions for sugar and juice.

Ripe Sour Cherry Jelly.

(Makes 7 medium-sized glasses)

3 cups juice

4 cups sugar

1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare juice, stem and crush about 3½ pounds fully ripe cherries. Add ½ cup water, bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, for 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly bag and squeeze out juice. If there is a shortage of juice, add a little water to fruit in bag and squeeze again.

Measure sugar into a dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure juice into a 3 or 4 quart saucepan.

Place pan over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin and mix well. Continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. Pour in sugar at once, stirring constantly. Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard ½ minute.

Remove from fire, skim and pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once.

Dried Apricot and Pineapple Jam.

(Makes 11 6-ounce glasses)

4 cups prepared fruit

7 cups sugar

1 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, add 2 cups water to ¼ pound apricots. Cover and let stand overnight.

Drain fruit, grind or chop fine and mix with juice.

Crush well or grind 1 medium-sized pineapple or use No. 2 can crushed pineapple. Measure sugar and fruit into a large kettle filling up last cup with water if necessary.

Bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Then remove kettle from fire and stir in bottled pectin. Skim. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Marmalade, golden tinted and shiny as the summer day, will win

Taste-Tested Tips: Old-fashioned potato salad is a treat made with boiled dressing, seasoned with dry mustard. Try a sprinkle of paprika over the top, and serve with crispy, broiled bacon.

Eggs are still plentiful and are a treat when served curried with a rice or noodle ring. Green peas or beans with baby onions are a good accompaniment.

Salads are refreshing as luncheon or supper main dishes. You'll like vitamin C filled oranges sliced on lettuce with one of the following salads in the middle: Chicken, tuna or egg salad; cottage cheese mixed with slivered, seedless grapes; or, cooked prunes stuffed with peanut butter.

many favorites this winter:

Carrot-Orange Marmalade.
(Makes about 9 glasses)
6 oranges
4 lemons
4 cups water
6 cups prepared carrots
5 cups sugar

Remove peel from the oranges and 2 of the lemons and chop. Soak in water overnight and drain, saving water.

Cut oranges into small pieces; dice carrots or put through a food chopper. Mix the peel, chopped oranges and carrots and cook, covered, until tender with as little water as possible.

Add sugar and water in which the peels were soaked and cook uncovered until thick and clear. Add juice of the lemons, cook 5 minutes longer. Pour into hot, sterilized glasses or jars.

Conserve is very much like jam, but it usually has raisins or nuts or both in it:

Peach-Cantaloupe Conserve.

(Makes about 5 glasses)

1 pint prepared peaches

1 pint prepared cantaloupe

Juice and grated rind of 2 lemons

3 cups sugar

½ cup English walnuts

Wash and peel peaches and dice.

Remove seeds from cantaloupe, pare and dice. Combine all ingredients except nuts. Cook slowly until mixture boils. Boil rapidly until thick and clear. Add nuts and pour into hot sterilized glasses.

Homemakers who are hunting for new combinations for jellies will like these. Use the long boil method in preparing them.

The last step in jelly and jam making is an easy one. Pour paraffin over the hot fruit mixture as soon as it is ladled into glasses and skimmed.

Cherry, 2 cups 3 cups

For those who wish to make jellies out of fruit juices canned this summer, there is a simple procedure to follow. If there is not enough sugar to fill all your canning and jelly-making needs, then the best way of assuring yourself of jelly, is to put up the juice and make it up into jelly when you do have the sugar.

Follow directions for preparing fruit or berry juice as in jelly-making recipes. Do not add fruit or simmer unless recipe directs it. After juice has been extracted, place in jelly bag and squeeze out the juice.

Fill canning jars to shoulder and seal according to manufacturers' directions. Place jars into a boiling water bath (180 degrees) with water reaching an inch or two above the jars. Keep water at simmering temperature and process pints of juice 20 minutes, quarts 30 minutes.

Remove jars and finish sealing, if necessary. Cool as rapidly as possible but avoid a draft.

To Make the Jelly.

When you desire to make the jelly, use your favorite recipe or those with the commercial pectins. These jellies have the same texture as those made from fresh products.

If you wish additional instruction for canning fruit or berries, write to Miss Lynn Chambers, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago 6, Illinois. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.

Butter Festival of Tibet

One of the strange and fascinating customs of that still unknown and mysterious land of Tibet beyond the Himalayas is the Butter festival.

At this festival there are erected 10-foot-high images of the gods, marvelously modeled-in butter. It is made from the milk of yaks and is supplied by the worshippers. Their gifts are all mixed together and then colored.

All the statues are illuminated by thousands of butter lamps, which slowly but surely melt the butter so that, by the end of the festival, they have become just meaningless masses of fat. When everything is over, the butter is thrown away for the birds to feed on.

Can all vegetables except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker to be sure of killing botulinus germs. In the last few years, cases of botulinus food poisoning have cropped up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, borrow, share a pressure cooker—but don't can low-acid vegetables any other way. If you want further information, write Good Housekeeping Magazine, 959 Eighth Avenue, New York 19, N. Y.

AMERICAN HEROES
BY LEFF

Two New York Boys, one from the lower East Side, one from the Bronx, have been awarded the Soldiers' Medal for saving eight crew members of a burning bomber at Port Moresby, Papua. Disregarding the dangers of exploding bombs, ammunition, and gasoline, Cpl. Anthony J. Lohrnto, Manhattan, and Pfc. Irving Leibhaber, the Bronx, rushed to the crashed bomber. It's up to us to buy War Bonds and hold 'em.
